Montgomery Regional Airport To Offer New Air Service

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (October 30, 2017) – Today, American Airlines announced the addition of nonstop service from Ronald Reagan Washington National Airport (DCA) to Montgomery Regional Airport (MGM).

Beginning June 7, 2018, daily service will be offered on the new Montgomery–Washington route.

“The Montgomery Airport Authority continues to work with our airline partners to expand service for passengers,” said, Tammy Knight Fleming, Board Chair. “This new, nonstop service connecting Alabama’s capital to the nation’s capital, one of the top destinations in our market, will be a tremendous asset for business travelers, government officials and the community at large.”

American Airlines currently operates nonstop service from Montgomery to Dallas, Texas and Charlotte, North Carolina.

Tickets for the new service between Montgomery (MGM) and Washington, D.C. (DCA) are available today at aa.com.
